

GM 600

The GM is a GMDSS (Global Maritime Distress and Safety System) VHF radiotelephone which can be used as a part of GMDSS system equipment required.

Corrosion resistance coating of the rear panel. Push [Next Task] button to select an other task. The main 12 functions are assigned to soft keys at the bottom of the display and toggled with the left and right keys. The CH16 button offers one-touch access to the CH By adopting a new waterproof paper speaker cone, the speaker provides superior sound quality with a wide frequency range and a flat frequency response. The clearly labelled keypad provides straightforward entry. Push [Accept] button to send the acknowledgement to the calling station. The clearly labelled keypad provides straightforward entry. The CH16 button offers one-touch access to the CH In addition, the radio delivers powerful 10 W audio when connected to an external speaker. Supplied accessories. The night mode display ensures good readability in a dark place. Push [Next Task] button to select an other task. Up to 7 tasks can be stored. Even when the radio is installed to the instrument panel, the operator can clearly recognize the display information from various viewing angle. In fact, the front panel has IPX7 protection 1m depth of water for 30 minutes and the rear panel has corrosion resistance coating. Intuitive User Interface A combination of the directional keypad and soft keys provides simple operation. The GM is designed to provide reliable operation and long-lasting durability under harsh maritime environments. The PS protects the radio from momentary power interruption. The night mode display ensures good readability in a dark place. Push [Accept] button to send the acknowledgement to the calling station. In fact, the front panel has IPX7 protection 1 m depth of water for 30 minutes and the rear panel has corrosion resistance coating. Up to 7 tasks can be stored. Even when the radio is installed to the instrument panel, the operator can clearly recognize the display information from various viewing angle. Intuitive User Interface A combination of the directional keypad and soft keys provides simple operation. In addition, the radio delivers powerful 10 W audio when connected to an external speaker. The PS protects the radio from momentary power interruption.